Your life, on the go

Audéo Life combines the performance of Paradise with convenience designed to support real people living rich lives.

There's nothing quite like the confidence boost that hearing aids offer to those who are experiencing hearing loss. We want to make sure that feeling is available no matter where you are.

Audéo Life, the world's first waterproof[†] rechargeable hearing aid for carefree listening wherever you are.

With increased protection from water, rechargeable batteries and an unrivaled^{} hearing experience, Audéo Life is ready for anything.

For even greater convenience, Phonak Charger Case Go[™] allows you to charge your hearing aids on the move, making them perfect for your active lifestyle.

Because life is full of the unexpected

We designed Audéo Life with real people in mind, offering the hearing support you need in a waterproof housing. Enjoy the confidence to work out at the gym, visit the beach or spend the day outdoors without any interruption to your hearing.

The robust new housing is:

- Waterproof
- Sweatproof

An unrivaled^{} hearing experience every day

Audéo Life is powered by Paradise, delivering unrivaled^{} sound quality⁴ to unleash an amazing hearing experience whatever the activity.

Find more joy in the everyday. Dynamic Noise Cancellation and Speech Enhancer allow you to enjoy reduced listening effort in noise and in quiet, respectively⁴, while universal Bluetooth[®] connectivity means you can enjoy your favourite media streamed directly to your hearing aids.

Final levels of speech understanding are influenced by several factors, including:

- The level of residual peripheral and central auditory function.
- The correct use of an appropriate level of hearing instrument technology. Four technology levels are available: 90, 70, 50 & 30. Your hearing care professional will discuss the most appropriate level of technology to meet your hearing needs.
- The use of hearing instruments accurately fitted by your hearing aid professional.

Rechargeable for convenience

Audéo Life is rechargeable, so there's no need to change the batteries.

Simply place your hearing aids in the charging case when you are not using them, and enjoy a long-lasting hearing experience every day.

Audeo Life has two charging options: Phonak Charger Case Go and Phonak Life Charger™. Charger Case Go features an internal battery so you can charge your hearing aids on-the-go. A single charge is enough to fully charge your hearing aids up to 3 times.

For those who only want a plug-in version, Phonak Life Charger has no internal battery and will quickly charge Audéo Life in 3 hours (default charger).

Make stronger connections with Audéo Life

Enjoying your favourite activities and spending time with loved ones are important parts of a fulfilling life. These are the things that help us connect to each other and the world around us, leading to greater well-being. Audéo Life offers universal connectivity, making it easier to connect with friends and family while immersing yourself in the experiences that make your life unique.

Universal connectivity allows you to:

- Connect to smartphones, TV, Roger™ microphones and more
- Use Tap Control for easy access to Bluetooth functionalities
- Support multiple Bluetooth connections
- Easily switch between two paired devices with enhanced Bluetooth capabilities

Connectivity is so important in our tech-driven lifestyles, which is why we have made it easy to switch between two Bluetooth devices in a flash, so you will never miss a call while enjoying media on your TV or tablet. Stream audio or video content directly to your Audéo Life hearing aids and benefit from unrivaled* sound quality⁴ for an even more immersive experience. Whether listening to your favourite music or watching the latest blockbuster movie, Audéo Life lets you make the most of your hearing.

Audéo Life with Roger for listening in noise and over distance.

Roger is designed to improve hearing in situations with background noise or where the speaker is at a distance.

Roger microphones function by picking up the voice of the speaker and wirelessly transmitting it directly to your hearing aids. This enables you to fully participate in group conversations even in very noisy environments such as restaurants, meetings at work and school activities.

Boost your well-being with convenient health data tracking

Monitoring your health data tracking on a daily basis can help you to make better daily lifestyle choices and improve your overall well-being in the long term.^{2,3} Audéo Life offers convenient health data tracking directly from your hearing aids, so you can engage with your health without the need to wear an additional device. We developed the myPhonak app to provide an easy way to gain insights about your health habits and set goals, helping to keep you motivated.

Audéo Life and the myPhonak app give you access to:

- Steps
- Activity levels
- Optional goal setting
- Health empowerment at your fingertips

Simply download the myPhonak app (available June 2022) on your smartphone or tablet and follow the simple guided setup to start taking control of your health.

A hearing experience as individual as you are

Your hearing needs are unique. Get more out of Audéo Life with the easy-to-use personalisation options offered by the myPhonak app. With improved functionality and a new design, the myPhonak app makes your hearing experience a breeze.
